

Images of Impact: Photography Competition

We're excited to launch a new photography competition as part of this year's conference.

What does Power, Partnership and Perseverance look like to you?

Photography can help us see familiar stories in new ways and this competition invites participants to explore this year's conference theme through images that highlight creativity.

We're inviting member organisations, their staff, volunteers and community participants to submit photographs that capture our conference theme: Power, Partnership, Perseverance.

We're looking for images that tell a story about the people, places, relationships and actions that help create health and wellbeing across Scotland. Whether it's a moment of collaboration, a local project making a difference or an example of resilience and determination - we'd love to see the world through your lens.

Submission Guidelines:

- Submit one photograph per entry.
- Photograph must have been taken within the last 2 years.
- Photographs must be original work.
- For quality purposes, the photo must be at least 200 DPI or 3307 x 2339 pixels. VHS will print and mount your photo.
- Images should reflect one or more of the conference themes: Power, Partnership, Perseverance.
- Photos may be submitted by individuals on behalf of an organisation.
- Images featuring identifiable people should only be submitted where permission has been obtained.
- The winning image will be announced at the conference and displayed alongside shortlisted entries.
- Deadline to submit photos is Wednesday, October 21st.
